

David Scheer

Hello, my name is David Scheer. I am the Accountant and Financial Analyst for Physician Research Collaboration, LLC (PRC). I work with sponsors, staff and Health Care Practices to provide timely accounting reports and financial results as it relates to the clinical trials and operations of PRC.

I have been in some type of finance and accounting role since my graduation from college and take pride in my broad business knowledge of a variety of industries. I joined the PRC team to bring that experience to an exciting and challenging area of health care.

Outside of work my interests are generally associated with family and outdoor activities. I enjoy playing golf when the weather allows and any activity that keeps me outdoors. My wife and I have three children and nine grandchildren and we spend much of our free time with them.

I am a life-long Nebraska resident spending the majority of that time in hometown central Nebraska community of St. Paul. I have resided in Lincoln, Nebraska for 20 years over two separate residencies.

I graduated from the University of Nebraska – Lincoln with a BS in Business Administration. I majored in Accounting with a minor in Computer Science. I spent almost 25 years in the banking industry working in many areas of the bank from lending to operations. The last 9 years I was the President of Citizens & Trust Co. in St. Paul as well as Citizens Bank & Trust Co. in Loup City, Ne. I began my career with a CPA firm and recently was in senior management with an international auction company.
