

Amy Johnson

Hi! I'm Amy Johnson, a Clinical Research Nurse at Physician Research Collaboration. Utilizing my RN and BSN education achievements, I have had the opportunity to gain experience in the research industry over the past 20+ years! I have a big heart and possess a strong desire to care for others therefore I take pride in my work experience because it complements who I am.

Outside of work, I'm pretty down to earth and like to spend time with my 2 awesome kids and a very energetic Pitbull :) Food, music, and travel are passions of mine which keep me on the hunt for a new restaurant to try, a good concert to attend, or a beautiful waterfall to enjoy. Here at PRC we are just simply a family working hard to find new ways to help patients. Being a part of developing new therapies is what I do, what I'm good at.....and I love it!
